Re: eTrack Sponsorship

As NSW State Manager of RAIA, I am pleased to sponsor the all-in-one eTrack software tool as an excellent way to help you automate the tracking of your company. This quote from the MD of Buckerfield Architects helps to describe how eTrack could benefit you...

"Fundamental to all Architectural Practices is the allocation of work to staff, the programming of that work to be completed in a timely manner with the correct allocation of resources, the overlay of checklists for quality assurance and the capturing of hours and costs for work completed. eTrack has allowed us to draw these disparate and often neglected duties into one refined management system and advance them to new levels. It is self policing and the user friendly nature means staff enjoy implementing the system." [(Robert) Buckerfield Architects] eTrack is developed and supported by a local Australian company, eTrack Products Pty Ltd. who have sponsored RAIA events and advertised in "The Architect Bulletin". Their product is used by architects in NSW and Victoria, many of whom purchased eTrack after an extensive review of alternatives. The company is renowned for building strong relationships with their customers and developing enhancements and reports as required. Grant Maggs Architects quotes...

"Our main use of eTrack is in the staff time sheets. The figures extracted from these time sheets were extremely efficient in creating reports, on all project stages which then enabled us to prepare accurate design estimates for future jobs, based on past similar projects. The support staff are always extremely helpful and ready to modify the program to suit our company as the need arose". [Grant Maggs Architects] eTrack comes pre-configured ready to use but can also be tailored to any environment. You only pay for the features you use but have the confidence of knowing you can scale to a fully featured, enterprise wide system, such as used by companies like ING and GIO with over 300 hundred users.

eTrack Products Pty Ltd is confident that you can achieve immediate benefits from using their product and up until Christmas are offering to minimise your risk by offering complementary configuration, installation and training and providing a 60 day 100% money back guarantee.

I encourage you to take a look at what eTrack has to offer by contacting them directly.

Best Regards
